“Redesigning Western New York’s Education Systems to Put Our Students on the Path to Life Success”

Dr. Richard Moglia-Cannon, CFO
National Institute for School Leadership
National Center on Education and the Economy

Monday, February 5, 2018
8:30 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.

Millennium Hotel
2040 Walden Avenue
Buffalo, NY 14225

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

It wasn't very long ago that a student only needed a high school diploma to secure a job that paid middle-class wages, raise a family in a comfortable house, and retire on a pension. Globalization and automation have made that world extinct. Western New York was one of the first regions of the country to be hit with this economic tsunami. The "Buffalo Billion" and similar initiatives are trying to restore the region's economic prosperity. How will these dynamic forces impact our students? Are there implications for our WNY schools? Rich Moglia-Cannon will lead an exploration of these important issues that will have a major impact on the future of our students.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Mr. Moglia-Cannon has been on a thirty-year journey to improve the education of our children. He started this journey as a management consultant with the prestigious international firm of Price Waterhouse and is currently the CFO and implementation strategist for the National Center on Education and the Economy (NCEE), a non-profit headquartered in Washington DC. His recent accomplishments include the design and implementation of a pilot principal credentialing system and the successful national scale-up of a high-quality principal training program. Rich has recently moved to Western New York to increase his impact on his first grandchild.
